

PITT ELEVEN IS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

Over Penn Team in Saturday's Game Which Will Be Played at Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 26.—Jubilant over the unexpectedly decisive victory at Syracuse last week, the University of Pittsburgh football players went into this week's practices with new vim, determined to keep the slate clean this year, as last, and hoping to defeat Pennsylvania, Washington and Jefferson, Pennsylvania State and the other teams yet to be met by a margin sufficiently great as to leave no doubt concerning the Panthers' superiority. Especial satisfaction was felt in the fact that not a man of the Pitt squad received an injury of any moment in the Syracuse fracas, and all save Sopitt, the giant guard, hurt in the Navy game, are in condition to meet Pennsylvania.

The Pitt players are unanimous in attributing their success in the clash with Syracuse to the methods pursued by Coach Warner, whom they consider not only the greatest but the cleanest and most of leaders. There is no question but that the noted Cornell graduate outgeneraled Hollenback in this decisive duel, and that the system which he has developed here is superior to that employed by any of Pitt's rivals up to date.

Practically every player on the team distinguished himself by his brilliant work against the Orange, for despite the score, the New Yorkers were fighting from start to finish and are not to be ranked as anything save a first class aggregation. Tomorrow's last-minute choice for the fourth back-field assignment, played a truly remarkable game for Pitt, and deserves especial mention along with DeHart, who displayed brilliant judgment in directing the team as well as individual skill of high order, and Hastings, who was the same star as always, Syracuseans marvelled at the terrific linebuckling of young McLaren, which surpassed anything ever accomplished against the mighty line of the Hollenback eleven. The success of the Pitt backs was due in a large measure to the splendid work of the line, which consistently out-jumped and outgamed their heavier opponents; Herron, Thornhill, Sies, Sutherland, Peck, Carlson and Seidel displayed the finest football a Pitt line has yet furnished.

The unexpected victory of the Pitt freshmen over the Syracuse yearlings at Forbes field on the same afternoon gave added zest to the day's news, and is very encouraging when considered as an omen for future years.

It looks as though the Panther lineup is pretty definitely fixed for the balance of the year, so far as first assignments go, unless some of the regulars have a surprising slump. Tomorrow's great play against Syracuse clinches his position, while Seidel confirmed the coach's judgment that he is the man for the right tackle job.

A record breaking crowd seems certain for the Penn-Pitt tussle Saturday, as this game is regarded here as being practically a championship affair for the state and, perhaps for a larger district. Folwell and Warner are old foes, and Penn burns to retrieve last year's defeat at the hands of the Pittsburghers. Most Pitt rotters consider it the real test of the season. Thousands of Penn Alumni will occupy several complete grandstand sections, and a special train brings students here from Philadelphia. Pitt graduates are pouring in from all parts of the continent, and the city is practically football mad. It is, in addition, the first big game of the year on the home field. Coach Warner evidently plans to use a more completely developed and versatile offense than has been required in the earlier games, and the nature of this week's practices indicated that he will rely further upon the open game, with the line bucking of McLaren and Hastings as a foundation. He is drilling carefully in defense against the forward pass.

How Catarrh is Contracted.
Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless as to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the mucus membrane, at first acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden. Many persons who have this loathsome disease will remember having had frequent colds at the time it was contracted. A little forethought, a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judiciously used, and all this trouble might have been avoided. Obtainable everywhere. —Advertisement.
